Short description

Recruitment to the three services: Royal Navy (including Royal Marines), Army and Royal Air Force, is a systematic, methodical and highly structured process. Each year large numbers of new recruits enter the Armed Forces undertaking programmes of training and skills development necessary to work in highly demanding and potentially dangerous situations and environments. While many of these young people move into specialist areas (e.g. administration, catering, engineering, logistics) where qualifications are readily available, many remain in the category identified as 'general duties' relatively commonly identified with being a Sailor/Marine, Soldier or Airman.

This Apprenticeship replaces the Apprenticeship in HM Forces (Issue 2) and provides the skills and knowledge to enable Apprentices to carry out their role in the Armed Forces. The Apprenticeship also provides a good basis for progression through their military careers.

Contact information

Proposer of this framework

This framework was originally proposed by the Ministry of Defence (MoD). Employer input was collected through employer engagement meetings and activities which were conducted internally within the Royal Navy (including Royal Marines), Army and Royal Air Force. The results of the combined consultation informed the content and structure of this framework. The combined qualification in this framework is underpinned by National Occupational Standards (NOS).

Purpose of this framework

Summary of the purpose of the framework

"Definition of Apprenticeships"

1. An Apprenticeship is a job with an accompanying skills development programme designed by employers in the sector. It allows the apprentice to gain technical knowledge and real practical experience, along with functional and personal skills, required for their immediate job and future career. These are acquired through a mix of learning in the workplace, formal off the job training and the opportunity to practice and embed new skills in a real work context. This broader mix differentiates the Apprenticeship experience from training delivered to meet narrowly focused job needs.
2. On completion of the Apprenticeship the apprentice must be able to undertake the full range of duties, in the range of circumstances appropriate to the job, confidently and competently to the standard set by the industry.

HM Forces (England)

This framework provides a nationally agreed Apprenticeship framework for a work based learning route into employment to HM Forces, using qualifications that combine both skills and knowledge.

With an increasing number of young people interested in joining HM Forces, the Intermediate Level Apprenticeship provides a quality work based learning route to students keen to progress their careers whilst achieving a Level 2 NVQ Diploma, Functional Skills and Personal Learning and Thinking Skills.

HM Forces continually recruit young people from all walks of life who are interested in securing a career within the Forces and improving their educational standing.

Prior to the development of this framework, those wanting to work as a member of HM Forces had little or no opportunity to gain a Level 2 qualification during their initial military training. The framework adds rigour to initial military training and allows learners the opportunity to progress through a work based learning model to ultimately achieve a Level 2 Intermediate Apprenticeship and gain the skills and knowledge to be effective in their role as a member of HM Forces. This achievement in turn enhances the individual's career prospects and academic skill set. Progression from Level 2 is then achievable through the successful completion of command and leadership courses which attract Level 3 and above command and leadership qualifications.

Learners completing the apprenticeship will undertake roles such as:

Naval Warfare Rating, Royal Marines General Duties Rifleman, Army Infantryman and an RAF Regiment Gunner.

Aims and objectives of this framework (England)

- to provide a structured learning programme that meets the needs of the employer and employees
- to provide learners with the skills needed to become a more rounded professional within the HM Forces
- to enable learners to fully understand reasoning behind why they should conduct themselves in a professional and safe manner, have a clear understanding of how their performance is directly related to the success of the business output and their own remuneration
- to increase the level of employer involvement in the training and development of their staff with a view securing their future careers both within the HM Forces and other sectors after termination of service.

This framework will contribute to the Business, Innovation and Skills Priorities set out in the Skills for Sustainable Growth (2010) and Governments plans to reform adult learning and skills. It will specifically address:

Fairness

Supporting learners who have not achieved basic skills during their schooling to obtain literacy and numeracy skills, through either Key Skills or Functional Skills accreditation. This will reduce the % of adults and school leavers who do not currently possess Level 1 literacy and numeracy skills and provide them with a platform to progress their skill set to Level 3 and above.

Responsibility

Requiring apprentices to understand their employment rights and responsibilities and to obtain an understanding of the sector and its career pathways so they can make informed choices about their future.

Freedom

Providing clear information for learners about the Apprenticeship as a pathway to career and academic progression. Ensuring the learner understands that this qualification and training is available to them and that because this framework complies with the latest Specification for Apprenticeship Standards in England and includes the latest qualifications from the Qualification and Credit Framework for England that it is valued by wider business communities.

Skills for Growth

Providing a comprehensive suite of apprenticeship frameworks, of which this one, covers the general duties occupations in HM Forces.

Contributing to the growth of apprentices to over 9,000 starts per year by 2014-15 and increased completions. By expanding the numbers within HM Forces to include all three services we can contribute further to the investment by employers and individuals in skills.

The sector regards the Intermediate Level as an initial educational starting block for their learners to achieve and afford them the opportunity to progress both professionally and academically within their sector.

There is no opportunity for learners to progress to a Level 3 framework without specialising in another aspect of the work of the uniformed services. The most natural learner progression route is in leadership and management linked to promotion through the ranks.

Entry conditions for this framework

Learners must have successfully completed the recruitment process for Royal Navy/Royal Marines, Army or Royal Air Force and must have been accepted to undertake initial military training and have been attested as a member of HM Forces.

Due to the nature of work within HM Forces there are a number of entry restrictions relating to age, nationality, residency, gender, medical and physical fitness. Requirements vary between and within the single services and are at times subject to change.

It may be advantageous to have had previous experience working within HM Forces, reserves or cadets but this is not essential.

All military induction and assessments are to be conducted within recognised recruit training establishments by qualified staff employed by or contracted through the MoD.

You are advised to check current entry requirements on the weblinks below:

- Royal Navy (including Royal Marines) - www.royal.navy.mod.uk/
- Army - www.armyjobs.mod.uk/
- Royal Air Force - www.raf.mod.uk/

Additional information can be found in this document under the section entitled How Equality and Diversity can be Met.

If you are interested in a career in the Armed Forces you should follow the guidance on the relevant website above or visit your local Armed Forces Careers Office.

Providers must provide evidence of ERR completion before the issue of an Apprenticeship certificate. Evidence will be in the form of a declaration which confirms that the requirements above have been met as part of this Apprenticeship.

For a copy of the HM Forces Declaration see the following link: www.skillsforjustice.com/Apprenticeships/HM-Forces

Certification Requirements for ERR

All providers and apprentices must complete the Apprenticeship Consent Form when claiming for the Apprentice's apprenticeship certificate. The universal form covers declarations for the apprentice to:

- confirm the existence of an Apprenticeship Agreement between themselves and their employer;
- confirm their achievement of all ERR requirements;
- confirm their achievement of all 6 PLTS;
- confirm that they have received at least the minimum levels of GLH set out in their framework and have undertaken training both on and off the job.

All apprentices must sign this form at the end of programme to give their authority for the claimant, named on the form, to make a claim, on their behalf, for their Apprenticeship completion certificate.

The remaining sections apply to all levels and pathways within this framework.

How equality and diversity will be met

Equality and inclusion within and throughout the Armed Forces is strictly governed by legislation and regulation (The Equality Act 2010) influencing practice in the wider public service and applies to the framework.

To ensure MoD employees are thoroughly compliant and aware of the legislative requirements a large number of sources of information, advice and guidance are available. Quality assurance is endorsed by the Cabinet Office through their assessment of the MoD Action Plan formed as a consequence of the MoDs Diversity Strategy below:

MINISTRY OF DEFENCE UNIFIED DIVERSITY STRATEGY "Diversity for Defence"

1. Introduction

The Ministry of Defence recognises that the people we employ are the most important factor in fulfilling its mission to defend the United Kingdom and its interests. The United Kingdom is a rich and diverse place. It embraces a huge variety of people from stimulating cultures and backgrounds. A diverse workforce enhances our capability to adapt continuously to a rapidly changing global context. We need a shared focus in this area which the unified strategy will provide.

2. Diversity Vision

Our vision is a workforce, uniformed and civilian, that is drawn from the breadth of the society we defend, that gains strength from that society's range of knowledge, experience and talent and that welcomes, respects and values the unique contribution of every individual.

3. Diversity Mission

We will create a culture that encourages people throughout society to join us, and remain with us, to make their distinctive contributions and achieve their full potential, and that does not tolerate any form of intimidation, humiliation, harassment, bullying or abuse and will ensure each individual is treated fairly, with dignity and respect. Our mission is to break down all barriers of discrimination, prejudice, fear or misunderstanding, which can damage operational effectiveness.

4. Objectives

- Provide information and participate in the HR Transformation Programme.
- Maintain links and take forward work on diversity focus groups and EDO network.

- Keep abreast of legislation, give advice and be involved in the consultation process on Diversity and Work Life Balance issues.
- Produce an MoD communications strategy to ensure stakeholder involvement.
- Identify gaps in present diversity strategy, identify changes necessary and produce action plans.

The Armed Forces have had success in increasing the diversity of the workforce in recent years in the areas covered by The Equality Act 2010:

- Age
- Disability
- Gender
- Gender reassignment
- Marriage and civil partnership
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Race
- Religion or belief
- Sex or sexual orientation

www.proud2serve.net is an online network supporting Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgender Armed Forces personnel. The Armed Forces also have links with a number of organisations representing groups affected by equality and diversity issues, eg. A:Gender, Stonewall, Race for Opportunity, Opportunity Now.

On and off the job guided learning (England)

Total GLH for each pathway

The total amount of Guided Learning Hours (GLH) which includes both on and off the job guided learning is 568 GLH. For a typical learner this will take a minimum of 12 months. The following rules apply to delivery of the learning in this pathway:

1. To comply with Skills Funding Agency requirements, learners aged 16-18 must spend a minimum of 12 months on this Apprenticeship programme. Learners aged 19+ must also spend a minimum of 12 months on this Apprenticeship programme, unless they have documented evidence of accredited or recognised prior learning. Where documented evidence of accredited or recognised prior learning is provided, learners aged 19+ must still spend a minimum of six months on this apprenticeship.

Please note, to comply with the Apprenticeship, Skills, Children and Learning Act 2010, a minimum of 280 Guided Learning Hours within the first year of the Apprenticeship and at least 280 Guided Learning Hours (pro rata) in each subsequent year must be completed.

Minimum off-the-job guided learning hours

A learner will need to complete a minimum of 338 GLH off the job (59% of the total GLH) over the minimum 12 months for this framework.

How this requirement will be met

The requirement for off the job guided learning is calculated as follows:

- be planned, reviewed and evaluated jointly between the learner and a tutor, teacher, mentor or manager
- allow access as and when required by the learner either to a tutor, teacher, mentor or manager
- be delivered during contracted working hours

- be delivered through one or more of the following methods: individual and group teaching, coaching, mentoring

Evidence for on the job GLH

- Certificate for combined competence/knowledge qualification (NVQ)

Providers will be responsible for ensuring that the minimum on the job GLH has been met when applying for Apprenticeship certificates. The HM Forces Declaration should be signed to confirm that GLH requirements for this framework have been met. The declaration can be found on the following link: www.skillsforjustice.com/Apprenticeships/HM-Forces

Certification Requirements for GLH

All providers and apprentices must complete the Apprenticeship Consent Form when claiming for the apprentice's Apprenticeship certificate. The universal form covers declarations for the apprentice to:

- confirm the existence of an Apprenticeship Agreement between themselves and their employer;
- confirm their achievement of all ERR requirements;
- confirm their achievement of all 6 PLTS;
- confirm that they have received at least the minimum levels of GLH set out in their framework and have undertaken training both on and off the job.

Personal learning and thinking skills assessment and recognition (England)

Summary of Personal Learning and Thinking Skills

Personal Learning and Thinking Skills (PLTS) are demonstrated, assessed and recognised as part of the combined qualification:

- Level 2 NVQ Diploma in Public Services Operational Delivery (Uniformed)

Detailed assessment guidance is provided within individual units. PLTS are clearly identified within the learners' record of evidence developed for this framework; this allows learners to recognise opportunities to develop, demonstrate and reflect on their skills.

Apprentices should be introduced to PLTS as part of their induction process. This will allow them to begin to recognise where they are demonstrating each of the skills.

Providers will be required to evidence the achievement of PLTS by signing the HM Forces Declaration. This form will be needed for certification of the Apprenticeship. It can be found at the following link: www.skillsforjustice.com/Apprenticeships/HM-Forces

Certification Requirements for PLTS

All providers and apprentices must complete the Apprenticeship Consent Form when claiming for the apprentice's Apprenticeship certificate. The universal form covers declarations for the apprentice to:

All apprentices must sign this form at the end of programme to give their authority for the claimant, named on the form, to make a claim, on their behalf, for their Apprenticeship completion certificate.
